*Please note that behaviors or interactions that are deemed opposed to the agency or professional standards may result in termination of internship and the participant will have full responsibility for any continuance of education outside of what has already been provided.

Position

This position would include a paid internship with participants working 32 hours a week ($15 an hour), completing a certificate program in peer support specialist (a $1000 value), and completing 6 courses from City Vision University to receive a Certificate in Addiction Counseling ($4,500 value). The certificate from City Vision could also be used for furthering your education toward an AA or BA in Addiction Counseling at a discounted rate of $500 per course. The BA degree at City Vision would qualify you to continue a Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology at Rhombus University at a discounted rate. This internship experience would give the participant training and experience with both telehealth addiction treatment and residential drug and alcohol treatment including, but not limited to, the following tasks: basic understanding of the addiction process and best methods for treatment, building rapport with clients, conducting intakes and assessments, monitoring client self-administering of medication, monitoring client physical safety and engagement in treatment, facilitating group sessions, integrating faith and the 12-steps into treatment, unholding the professional and ethical standards of AOD treatment, documentation standards in AOD treatment, case management, discharge planning, and more. This internship requires a 1 year commitment and may be extended in certain circumstances.

To qualify, applicants must first write a 2 to 3-page essay describing why they would like to pursue this internship experience and how they see this experience fitting into their long-term vision for the future. Applicants should first research Genesis Recovery, City Vision University, Rhombus Counseling, and Rhombus University to fully understand the training and philosophy of the experience.
